

Rory the residential user

Author:

www.freespeech.co.uk

Created On: 08 Jun 2006 02:42 PM

Rory has a house phone, broadband and a mobile, he feels his bills are mounting up.

Rory's problems

1. He's paying too much for calls.
2. He doesn't like paying line rental.

Let's look at how Freespeech can solve Rory's problem

Rory can switch his broadband provider to a cable company and stop paying line rental, he can get rid of his house phone and route all his calls via his cable broadband using Freespeech.

Problems Solved

1. Rory now gets 10 free minutes every day AND there are no monthly payments required.
2. Rory no longer pays line rental, he only pays for his cable broadband connection.

Other Benefits that Rory found

He can now listen to his voicemail at work by checking his email.

When he moved house the following year there was no messing with number porting, he just plugged in his VOIP adaptor to his broadband and started making calls.

When he visited his brother in the US he could download a software phone and make FREE calls to home.